Dear Friends,

On behalf of the patients, families, faculty, and staff within the Division of Pediatric Oncology at the Johns Hopkins Kimmel Cancer Center, it is my privilege to thank you for your support of Dr. Donald Small's research. Private philanthropy is vital in furthering our mission to conduct bench to bedside research in conjunction with compassionate, empathetic, patient-and-family-oriented care.

Although the COVID-19 pandemic has affected our operations, both within healthcare and beyond, our priority to remain on the cutting edge of oncology treatment through innovative and transformative research remains steadfast. Now more than ever, your generosity provides our experts with the indispensable resources needed to improve the cure rate for children with cancer through laboratory-based research. In one of the most challenging times in the history of NIH funding, your contribution is especially important.

Despite current challenges, it is heartwarming and inspiring to see each and every member of our team remain so committed to delivering world-class care to our patients.

Thank you for enabling our continued progress toward a world without childhood cancer.

With gratitude,

Donald Small, M.D., Ph.D.
